

Trees that Withstand Climate Change Dr. Julie Etterson

Dear Minnesota, I'm Dr. Julie Etterson from the University of Minnesota Duluth.

Like you, we worry about how climate change will affect something we all love: our trees.

Here in Duluth, we've been collecting tree seeds from across the state so we can study their ability to survive climate change and we're engaging farmers to grow variations that are hardier.

That's your university, Minnesota: Fighting climate change and making sure we all have shade.
